

VENDOR APPLICATION

Application Deadline is June 15, 2021

We are excited to offer two Cape Ann Makers Market vendor opportunities, in conjunction with the Gloucester-Rocky Neck Cultural Splash promotions this summer!

We're looking for 25 Cape Ann vendors (we may be able to fit additional). This is a semi-juried event and vendor selection will be based on craftsmanship, use of materials and with an emphasis on handmade gifts. Artisans, crafters, makers who incorporate ecological and ocean life themes a plus. We will not accept vendors selling directly imported goods, otherwise commercially made (buy/sell) items or direct sales.

We are offering limited indoor and outdoor spaces for a minimum $35 donation, per event, for Ocean Alliance instead of a vendor fee.

Indoor		Outdoor*
8x8		8x10

All vendors must provide own tables.

*Outdoor vendors must additionally provide tent and weights.
Electrical connection is available if needed for additional cost of $10.

No payment is due until your application has been accepted.

Please complete the CAMM Application Form below and submit no later than June 15th.
Applicants will be notified about the status of their application by June 25th.

About Cape Ann Makers Market:

At the Cape Ann Makers Market (CAMM), we believe in a creative collective approach. It's our goal to promote collective local shopping alternatives, with a unique atmosphere to support our local makers, local environment, and local economy.

CAMM is dedicated to celebrating our makers, from Gloucester, Essex, Manchester-by-the-Sea and Rockport, who strive to create and sell high quality handcrafted goods such as jewelry, ceramics, printing, painting, photography, woodworking, fiber arts, and more.

CAMM events are co-produced by Cape Ann Sea Salt Company and Hold Fast Company. If you are an artisan, crafter or maker who would like to be a part of our collaborative event planning, please email deanna.fay@comcast.net.

About Ocean Alliance:

Ocean Alliance, Inc., a 501(c)3 organization, was founded in 1971 by biologist Roger Payne. Led by Dr. Payne and CEO, Iain Kerr, Ocean Alliance collects a broad spectrum of data on whales and ocean life relating particularly to toxicology, behavior, bioacoustics, and genetics. From that data we work with our scientific partners to advise educators and policy makers on wise stewardship of the oceans to: reduce pollution, prevent the collapse of marine mammal populations, maintain human access to fish and other sea life, and promote ocean and human health.

Ocean Alliance is concerned with the conservation of whales and all sea life, as well as human impacts on the marine environment. Through the Ocean Alliance program the Voyage of the Odyssey, we were able to focus on measuring the concentrations of synthetic contaminants that adversely affect the world's oceans and its marine species. Ocean Alliance is also working to reverse humanity's general apathy about the fundamental importance of the oceans and the degree to which the future of all life on earth is dependent upon them.
